SHOPPING & MONEY

How do supermarkets make us[1] spend more money?

They put fresh[2] bread, as it smells lovely, near the entrance[3] to make us feel hungry – and hungry shoppers spend more. They also rearrange things and put them in different places; this makes us spend more time in the store and that means spending more money. They put sweets and chocolate near the checkout, so it is easy to add bars of chocolate to our basket or trolley while we are waiting in the queue[4]. And they put the most expensive items[5] on the middle shelves where you are more likely[6] to see them. And be careful of special offers[7], e.g. three for the price of two. People often buy more than they need and throw away half of it.

B Shopping centres and street markets

Some people like modern shopping centres[1] because everything is under one roof[2] and it is convenient[3]. There's a wide range[4] of shops, and if there is anything wrong with something you buy, the shop will replace[5] it, or give you a refund[6].

Other people prefer going to street markets because they like the atmosphere[7] you get from the different stalls. Food and clothes are also usually cheaper in street markets. Sometimes you can try to agree a lower price for something you buy in a street market; we call this haggling. Of course, if you don't like what you buy in a street market, you can't normally take it back and get a refund.

[1] large covered shopping areas
[2] in one place
[3] practical and easy to use
[4] different things of the same type
[5] exchange it for another one
[6] money that is paid back to you when you return something

I go to work by bus. It's only three stops.

We got the train to Cardiff, but the journey was terrible.

I got out of the taxi and almost walked away without paying the fare.
If there are more flights, airfares should be cheaper.
We were going to get the train to Paris, but in the end we decided to fly.

Common mistakes

It was a good journey.
(NOT It was a good ~~travel~~.)

C Are you happy with public transport?*

Where I live buses are not very convenient[1]; the nearest bus stop is half a mile away[2]. And when I do get the bus, I often have to wait in a queue[3] for about twenty minutes, and then three come along at the same time!

People are always complaining about[4] the bus service, but where I live it's good. I've got a bus stop round the corner[5] and buses run every ten minutes for most of the day, and they're usually reliable[6].

I get the train to work. Trains are expensive – a return[7] to London is forty pounds – but I've got a season ticket[8], and that makes it cheaper. My only real complaint is that if I miss[9] my train, I have to wait half an hour for the next one.
